At times, during lucid intervals, he will give one name and address, only to contradict himself later.

He was removed to the Jail Saturday afternoon from the Memorizal Hospital, because he had become a raving maniac. Yesterday, however, he quieted down sufficiently for Detective-Sergeants Wiley and Kellam to obtain a good photograph of him. It is this purpose of the department to use this as a means of identification.

The man was brought to the Memorial about ten days ago from Ashland, where he fell from a freight trian of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad. Whether his mind was deranged by this accident or whether he suffered from the affliction previously cannot be determined.

No report has been received in Richmond of any missing person who answers the description of the prisone.
